

PICKING YOUR 12 MAJOR ARCHETYPES PLACING THEM IN YOUR GATEWAYS CHART

This handout will be a guide to help you pick your 12 archetypes: 4 power/survival archetypes (the loving life/child, sense of purpose/saboteur, transcendence/victim, and self-respect/prostitute) and 8 of your own choosing.

Archetypes are like spiritual and energetic filters. They open you to certain experiences and close you to others. We see and think and experience life through its archetypal patterns. Just like chakras and profiles, archetypes are energy vortexes that filter what you can attract and what you are here to offer in each moment. Deep inner work is the process of uncovering elements of these archetypal worlds. To know your life purpose, you have to see a much broader picture of who you are, your gifts and why you're here in this time and place. When you know and feel your profiles, 12 gateways and archetypes, you will develop amazing personal insight, energy, power and clarity and a deep sense of purpose that is unbendable and non-negotiable, giving you the ability to make conscious choice and take powerful action in your life.

The biggest archetype and highest vibration in your life is your soul, or essence. In its purity, it is the first filter separating your individual consciousness from god consciousness. Each person carries one pure core quality like playful, thoughtful, powerful, integrity, compassion, love, surrender, gentleness, etc. Your soul then makes certain spiritual contracts as you descend and incarnate in human form. The unbreakable spiritual and physical contracts include your profile(s), your body and genetics, your 12 unique gateway energy centers of consciousness, and 12 archetypes that act as your lifelong guides to discover and live fully in your life purpose. To fully understand your 12 Chakras/Gateways, you will need to become aware of how they have been guided archetypally.

All the archetypal energies and patterns (Human form, Profiles, Archetypes, Gateways) that you filter through your life and aura will in some way serve your soul. They create a gravity, a life attraction that calls to you what is good for you and lets what is not good go right by. When your filters are open, the combination of your filters expresses your core soul qualities in a unique direction in each moment and the whole is greater than the sum of the parts. When this happens every event in your life is filled with pure energy and the light aspects of your profile, chakras and supporting archetypes, and you dance through life. When any or all of these filters are denied through mental Vows to be someone you are not at the soul level, you become disconnected and rudderless living in the shadow aspects of your profile, chakras and archetypes, where life becomes "work" and is draining. The shadow aspects of each archetype profile and chakra are still direct clues to your life purpose, just not as fun to live through. Knowing your archetypes lets you have greater choice in how you express them and work with what they call you to.

These human Archetypes are consciousness structures that exist on planet Earth, that guide you to know who you are and what your purpose is here. The 5 profile archetypes are easy: Feelers, Caretakers, Thinkers, Leaders and Achievers. They give you your primary quality of your life purpose. In general, the 12 archetypes are easily recognizable patterns not just in your life, but in the world and are more specific to your tasks in your lifetime. They are all the possible human qualities - Father, Mother, Prince, Lover, Judge, Hero, etc. These archetypes help you know who you are, who other people are, what you are all here to do and how you will recognize your life purpose throughout life. The 12 chakras/gateways are also archetypal and represent conscious realms, body, feelings, actions, relationships, communication, thinking, spiritual connection, etc. Each gateway is guided by one of the 12 archetypes which give that chakra its focus. Everything that comes to you in your life that has any importance at all must come through these filters. If you don't have a "chakra" and "archetype" for a certain life experiences, then you won't experience them or, if you do, it will be short-lived. This is the understanding that your "Nature" gives you the rules of the game, your curriculum to God, and your "Nurture" and daily life do not actually change you, they just give you power to choose to honor your soul, or try to be someone you are not. Trying to be someone you are not is very popular but does not fill you with much happiness.

In this exercise you will choose your 12 archetypes and begin the art of placing them in your 12 gateways. Choosing them from the list on the last pages of this handout must be done taking into account that your archetypes have been with you your entire life, and they generally do not change. To choose an archetype, both the shadow and the light aspect of each one must have played a huge role in your life. Adding the Archetypes into your Profile and Chakras understanding gives you the bridge and context for understanding why you have the chakras and life you do and how to call on the deeper guidance you will need to call back your energy and stand fully in your life purpose.

To know yourself and how to integrate your life, you will need to understand the energies that you are working with. To pretend you can choose with your will what you want to work with in your life is the ego's immature wishful thinking. To know your spiritual path you must study your life and see the impersonal patterns that have always presented you with the choices you have.

EXERCISE: CHOOSING YOUR 12 ARCHETYPES BASED ON THE PROFILES

Overview of exercise: The goal of this exercise is to select your 12 primary archetypes that have been guiding you your entire life. After you pick your top 12, you will then begin the process of seeing which Chakra/Gateway each of them guides directly. In this model of self-understanding, you only have one Archetype for each of the 12 Gateways.

Start with selection: You are given 4 archetypes known as the Power/Survival archetypes which every person has in their chart: they are the Loving Life/Child, Sense of Purpose/Saboteur, Transcendence/Victim and Self-Respect/Prostitute. You need to pick the other 8. All 8 that you pick must be able to directly serve your primary profile and must be something you have been able to see in your life since the beginning (i.e. in my chart you will see that all of the archetypes have [1] been with me my entire life and [2] directly serve my Creative Idealist primary profile in some way). Your secondary profiles will certainly have influence in a number of the archetypes you pick but will not be the primary reason you have that archetype. Example: my Charismatic Leader is my 3rd profile and supports my Evangelist archetype in my 5th chakra, but what I preach about are my ideas (Creative Idealist) more than my "change the world mission" that I am willing to die for (Charismatic Leader). There are flavors of both in there but my 5th chakra is servant to my highest purpose of my Creative Idealist).

Step 1: You already have the 4 Power/Survival Archetypes chosen for you: the Loving Life/Child, Sense of Purpose/Saboteur, Transcendence/Victim, and Self-Respect/Prostitute. When you place them in the chakras, these Power/Survival Archetypes must go in the 7 primary chakras, not the spiritual centers. SEE THE "PLACING THE 4 POWER/SURVIVAL ARCHETYPES IN YOUR CHART" SECTION BELOW ON THE NEXT PAGE.

Step 2: Go to your primary Profile in the "Archetypes By Profile" list at the bottom of the document on pages 10-13 and pick all the archetypes that seem to resonate with you both in the positive and negative. Make sure that both the light and shadow qualities have been present throughout your entire life. (The shadow is sometimes hard to see - you may pick the Pioneer and have a strong ability to forge new pathways and create what has not been done before, but you will also have to own the shadow of never putting roots down and constantly moving on in your life compulsively.)

Step 3: Go to your secondary Profiles in that archetypes list and select any others that stand out.

Step 4: Read all the archetypes listed for the other profiles (bottom of this document) and/or do any of your own research online or in the dictionary or in the back of Sacred Contracts (Myss) or make up archetypes that you feel you have. (i.e. I have the Prince archetype that really is more of a "Golden Boy" - the "Light" is that everything tends to go my way and people like me, and the "Shadow" is that I feel entitled and hate entitled people.) The most important key is that you must be able to see them in our life from early on until now if they are to go in your 12.

Step 5: As you whittle down your selections/cards to your top 12, make sure you pick at least one or two that you hate to admit are a part of your inner world (i.e. I hated picking the Evangelist, I have always seen Evangelists in the shadow like Jimmy Swaggart, but they are not all bad! In the light, all the people who are willing to speak up to change the world and awaken others to a higher way of living are Evangelists too!)

Step 6: Once you have your 12, go through them with someone you know well or a group who are not afraid to tell you if you are just idealizing and have chosen based on what you wish you were, not who you really are. You must be able to justify them and have lots of examples in both the light and shadow - if it is really you, they will agree. Use Carolyn Myss' work to find out more about the light and shadow aspects of each archetype. One very important note here: if you ask someone to help you or you ask a teacher to help you and they say that one (or five!) of your chosen archetypes are way off base and are coming from who you think you are, not who you actually are, do not go into battle. It would have been easier for them to agree with you. If they challenged you, make a note, then ask a few other people or classmates and see what they say. If they all agree it is not something that they see in you, you have gotten a look at your defense and who you wish you were that has never served you. Of course, if your defense is that you are always "misunderstood" you may get an amazing opportunity to see that it might be you who has no idea who you are and have just assumed that others did not understand you. Letting this in will change your life!

Step 7: Begin the process of matching up each archetype with one of your 12 chakras/gateways. Each chakra should have an Archetype that is its primary guide. Knowing the in-depth qualities of the 12 gateways will be essential for this exercise.

The basic chakra qualities to match them up to are follows:

Chakra 1: Family/Tribe/Groundedness

Chakra 2: Sex/Money/Emotions/Passions

Chakra 3: Self-Esteem/Ego/Self-Expression physically

Chakra 4: Relationships/Love/Inner Process

Chakra 5: Communication/Creative Mission/Self-Expression verbally

Chakra 6: Vision/Mind/Beliefs/Seeing your place in the world

Chakra 7: Infinite Abundance/Connection to Spirit/Open or Closed to Life

Chakra Physical Life Purpose: Unbendable non-negotiable parts of you/Raw gifts you access physically, mentally, emotionally, spiritually in every moment

Chakra Spiritual Life Purpose: Inner Purpose/Contract for how you are to use your Physical Life Purpose qualities

Chakra Aha Point: Unified Passion/How you pull all your gifts and energy together to awaken to your highest purpose

Chakra Soul: Your Character/Core Personality quality you were born with

Chakra Inner Light: Brilliance/Clarity/How you see the soul and heart of others and the world

PLACING THE 4 POWER/SURVIVAL ARCHETYPES IN YOUR CHART

LOVING LIFE / CHILD

Loving Life

- Elements of responsibility in your life
- The power to choose to be alive and open
- The child challenges and refines responsibility
- Balancing trust in authority and personal responsibility to their inner self and callings
- The child trusts - to be a trusting adult you have to feel the trust of the child with the responsibility of an adult
- Trust in a power greater than the self

Child

- Feeling of not belonging
- We all want it given to us, by god or some adult figure, the child just wants without work
- I deserve....
- Don't know enough (the most common reason for not pursuing dreams)

- Will not trust others and not believe in a god who doesn't give them what they want
- Tantrums
- No trust in authority because of betrayal

How Loving Life/Child may look in each chakra:

What chakra are you the most innocent and live in a world of wonder and miracles? / Where are you the most childlike through?

Chakra 1: Loving Life - Finds Tribe of Playmates, grounded and responsible to the true self / Child - Never takes authority or responsibility in family or tribe, feels like they don't belong

Chakra 2: Loving Life - The world is one big ice cream stand of pleasure, responsible for their own pleasure in life, called by feelings to life and goes willingly / Child - Demanding, pouting, screaming, feeling hurt, fixating on childhood wounds to justify being irresponsible, wanting it all to be given to them

Chakra 3: Loving Life - Wants to play not work, everything they do is alive and fun, they trust and are responsible to their inner callings from god / Child - Have little capacity to do hard work that they don't see as fun or just for the money, will never "grow up"

Chakra 4: Loving Life - Falling and lost in love, puppy-dog love / Child - Always needs a mommy or daddy, will not be the adult or the responsible one in relationships

Chakra 5: Loving Life - Speaks their vulnerable inner needs and enthusiasm for life with no filter, blurting out ideas and feelings fearlessly / Child - Tiny scared voice, or voice of a brat, lies like a child, always gets caught, "it's not my fault", "I deserve..."

Chakra 6: Loving Life - Sees the world through rose-colored glasses as amazing and thrilling and a playland, great imagination and creativity / Child - Sees the world as more than they can handle without help or not able to take care of them, don't know enough, not old enough.

Chakra 7: Loving Life - Sees spirits and angels in all of life, lives a fantasy and fairy tale life / Child - Lost in a fantasy of what is possible, impractical, very childlike in their choices.

SENSE OF POWER / SABOTEUR

Sense of Power

- Not being afraid to come into your power and of the changes it will make in your life
- Highlights your fear of the consequences of becoming powerful. More power will always change your world, the Saboteur lets you see that fear of change
- Points out where you are about to sabotage yourself or allow yourself to be sabotaged because you are afraid of change and letting go of the past as you gain more power.
- Brings your power of choice to everything you do
- You choose to see every event in your life as god's guidance to reach even higher or deeper, not a reason to pull back
- Lets you choose to support yourself by listening to external and internal guidance, learn from your mistakes and live to fight another day or avoid certain fights in the future.

- The power of action breaks self-sabotage and procrastination
- Becoming conscious of your vows and beliefs used to protect but limit you

Saboteur

- No discipline
- Choices made from low self-esteem that block your empowerment and success
- When you make decisions from fear instead of trust
- What will “they” say?
- Trying to be a profile, or person you know you are not
- Will reject help from others
- Get guidance and then say “I don’t know”
- Denying your gifts or belittling others’ gifts
- Self-destructive behavior, “can’t have my dreams” is the lie. You are really just lazy: you have a 14 hour a day vision with a 3 hours a day discipline focus
- Won’t use discipline to keep the body in shape, mind on track, spirit intact
- Spending more time thinking of how your dreams won’t work, than will work
- Seeing anything you are doing or have done as a failure
- Desire to undermine others

How Sense of Power/Saboteur may look in each chakra:

Where are you given the greatest opportunity to inspire and be inspired? / Where in your life do you sabotage yourself the most?

Chakra 1: Sense of Power - Not afraid to go it alone or lead, but would never choose to hurt anyone else in the process or to leave anyone behind / Saboteur - Playing small and giving power over to the tribe, not changing because family or others will not approve

Chakra 2: Sense of Power - Knowing what you want, having passion and going for it, will pay whatever price is needed when they are called in life to do something / Saboteur - Doesn’t manage energy in their body or in the form of money and material objects well, doesn’t invest well in self

Chakra 3: Sense of Power - Do what you know you should do but don’t, don’t do what you know shouldn’t do but are doing / Saboteur - Lie to yourself about your level of discipline, 14 hr a day dream with 3 hour a day focus, live in the wrong profile, afraid of coming into power

Chakra 4: Sense of Power - Choose relationships that serve both of your higher purposes / Saboteur - Choosing people who make you play small or drain you of your energy before you live your dreams, choosing people you have to stay in battle with so you never get on to living your life

Chakra 5: Sense of Power - Share your dreams and inspiration with others so they can support you and as a way to create yourself in the world / Saboteur - Always saying “I don’t know” when asked what you want or what your mission is, or say “no I can’t do that” when they know they can

Chakra 6: Sense of Power - Believing in yourself and your potential, trusting in their guidance / Saboteur - Remember all your failures and know 2 reasons not to do things

Chakra 7: Sense of Power Take action on guidance without hesitation / Saboteur - Don’t try new things out fear of failure and limitations, postpone what you know you are being called to now, want life to move slower

TRANSCENDENCE / VICTIM

Transcendence

- Is how you set boundaries in your life, both being invaded and you invading others
- Becoming individuated in the 3rd chakra, actions serve self and others - no victims
- Prevents you from letting yourself be influenced, victimized or victimizing others
- Don't let self be invaded, and don't invade others
- Alerts you to things, people, ideas substances, etc., which you allow to have more influence over your behavior than your Soul
- Where you make decisions and set boundaries. Saying "yes" or "no" and meaning it
- "NEVER AGAIN" is the power of the victim, "healing anger"
- Seeing when you are about to be victimized by others or you are becoming the victimizer with your rash or inappropriate actions
- The power of choosing to have boundaries
- Setting a clear boundary between the self that is the soul, and all other external forms in your life.
- Moving from victim to victorious

Victim

- Plays victim for positive feedback in the form of pity, or self-righteous retribution.
- Self-pity, self-hatred, depression, feeling attacked and violated by others, attacking back
- Inability to maintain personal boundaries, others make them feel what they are feeling
- Believes that others or money or situations victimize them and control their choices
- Fears aloneness - if I do this, I will be all alone and victimized by those who do not understand.
- Needs to decide what is healthy, not consciousness

How Transcendence/Victim may look in each chakra:

Where in your life do you awaken to epic forgiveness and self-love? / Where do you victimize yourself and others from?

Chakra 1: Transcendence - Living through abuse and family struggles for independence has led to feeling safe, strong, healthy, vulnerable and empowered / Victim - Tribe has no boundaries, "what is yours is mine", living in fear of being abused and victimized by authority, no defense against the powers that be or authority in family

Chakra 2: Transcendence - Fearless in their use of feelings and passion / Victim - Victimized, rejected, abused for being overly sensitive or emotional, or victimizes self by denying feelings altogether, poor me, depressed, never happy, shot down, enmeshed

Chakra 3: Transcendence - Breaking free from repression, 3rd chakra stands individuated, victorious in battle for independence / Victim - Victims always need help, actions always lead to a sense of failure or disaster, rejection and retaliation, actions are based in self-righteousness and feeling like a victim, sending spirit on missions to hurt or "fix" others and self

Chakra 4: Transcendence - Choose relationships from power and vulnerability, forgives everything in their past as the best thing that could have happened to them / Victim - Lives in woundology in the world of people, constantly victimized by relationships and a lifetime of wounding and lack of forgiveness

Chakra 5: Transcendence - Speaks clearly about needs, setting healthy and understandable boundaries / Victim - Whines, blames, uses excuses, feeling like a victim pointing the finger of guilt at others, oscillating to victimizing others and bullying, lies about their own truth, says "I deserve it, but never get it", says "it's unfair"

Chakra 6: Transcendence - Sees that the path to freedom is through forgiveness of self and other, truly detached / Victim - Dissociated from their thinking and actions, sees the world as unfair, victimizes self by being stuck in past trauma and unconsciousness, projects problems on others, see others always as the problem not themselves

Chakra 7: Transcendence - Knows that possibility is available to them even in the hardest situations, trusts in god and embraces all situations and events / Victim - Knows that life is futile, life sucks then you die, god deals you a bad hand.

SELF-RESPECT / PROSTITUTE

Self-Respect

- Not negotiating your soul out of fear
- Code of honor
- Faith, Strength and Self-Esteem, I will not sell my soul out of fear and survival
- Letting material life have less influence in your life than what your soul calls you to do
- Maturation of power and responsibility. More power must equal more integrity.
- Every time you choose to be more empowered, spirit will test you to see if you will negotiate that power in the dark
- The challenge of survival without negotiating the power of your spirit
- Integrity of honoring spirit over matter
- Every choice you make to honor your soul gets you more power and can't be bought or seduced by what normal people are controlled by
- Soul is strong enough to transcend the needs of the body, 40 days in the desert, starving under the Bhodie Tree
- Speak your truth, not your wounds
- Birth and redefine self-esteem and self-respect
- The power of choosing how you will survive in the world

Prostitute

- What material needs are you willing put above your soul to gain security? What is your price? Everyone has one.
- Seduction and control for self-enrichment
- Selling out your talents, ideas, or any other self-empowerment expression of self for security
- Selling your creativity, opinion, your silence, your wisdom, your integrity
- Selling your Soul for safety will jam your guidance system
- Everyone has a price

- Serves earthly power more than heavenly power
- “How will this profit me?” instead of “What will it cost spiritually?”
- Money and “stuff” (more than sex) is the core of this Archetype
- What will you compromise or sell to stay safe?
- Soul serving the earth more than heaven.
- Betray deepest calling for money and stuff.

How Self-Respect/Prostitute may look in each chakra:

Where do you directly access your Divine Integrity and value as a human being / Where do you sell your soul or hold to your highest principles?

Chakra 1: Self-Respect - Will not sell who they are out of loyalty to family or tribe, not a follower / Prostitute - Will betray their own truth for that of the tribe that keeps them safe and on the side of majority, be what is expected

Chakra 2: Self-Respect - Motivated by deep inner calling and passion, never sells out for money again / Prostitute - Will sell out their dreams and desires for the right price, money and power make their decisions

Chakra 3: Self-Respect - Actions are always challenged but principles are stronger than the flesh, highest possible integrity as they move up the ladder of power, self-esteem, mature power / Prostitute - Will shapeshift and lie with their body and actions, sell their talents to the highest bidder, power is beauty and cleverness rather than inner wisdom, every new level of power leads to less integrity

Chakra 4: Self-Respect - Will always choose relationships from love and desire for union with the soul of their partner / Prostitute - Will always choose relationships for what the person has or is capable of or how the other can protect or serve them

Chakra 5: Self-Respect - Impeccable with their word, will never betray the self or other / Prostitute - Gossip and use words to get approval and attention, lies to create a false self, will say facts like they are truth, speaks wounds, will say whatever they need to get approval, love, attention, money, things

Chakra 6: Self-Respect - Sees the true self and purpose in every moment, ideas, creativity and genius are not for sale but for the good of all / Prostitute - Mind is used to gain in any way possible, mental tricks and powers become the self and are monetized, ideas go the highest bidder, or wishy-washy about what is right or wrong

Chakra 7: Self-Respect - Are willing to be called and never let material gain or lack of it block the power of true wisdom, sacred prostitute giving birth to all of life by trusting in their calling a guidance more than the temptations of life / Prostitute - See their highest purpose through how much control and money they have or lack thereof, god punishes by taking away, will make a deal with the devil, “if I do this then you will...” bargaining with god constantly, sees a limited world, get what you can while you still have power, beauty, cleverness and influence, guidance is all lower chakras
